ARPA / COACHSAFELY INITIATIVE

WIN WITHOUT LOSSES

"Sports safety for the youth in our communities is of the utmost importance. Through the Alabama Recreation and Parks Association, we are here to deliver that education to coaches of athletes age 14 and under as we strive to make the recreational sports environments, in which our youth are participating, as safe and injury-free as possible."

— Natalie Norman, Executive Director, Alabama Recreation and Parks Association

The CoachSafely training course is evidence-based and peer-reviewed to meet the standards of Alabama's 2018 CoachSafely Law. It was developed in collaboration with the Andrews Research & Education Foundation, founded by renowned orthopedic surgeon James Andrews.

The course, powered by state-of-the-art learning management system InjureFree, consists of video modules covering these subjects:

- Coaching the Youth Athlete
- Concussions
- Emergencies in Athletics
- Emergency Preparedness
- Overuse Injuries
- Unique Conditions in the Child Athlete
- Protect your athletes!
- Protect your coaches!
- Comply with the law!

Best of all you can train your coaches at no cost!
